Purpose

This Continuity of Government (COG) Plan is designed to explain how Georgia's government will continue to operate if there is a loss in key personnel, key equipment or key facilities. The changing threat environment nationwide, including, natural, man-made and technological disasters has increased the need for visible continuity of government capabilities and plans that enable continued operations across the full spectrum of potential emergencies. This plan focuses on how internal and external emergencies and disasters impact day-to-day critical functions. The purpose of this plan is to identify how the State of Georgia Executive and Legislative Branches of Government will continue performing essential functions when important governmental operations are disrupted. This plan will specifically address how the state's constitutional responsibilities will be preserved, maintained and reestablished.

Scope and Applicability

Continuity of Government Planning ensures that Georgia is capable of conducting essential missions and functions under all threats and conditions, with or without warning. Successful COG Plans address succession of leadership, delegation of emergency authority, command and control. In addition, COGs discuss government continuation, resumption and recovery from any incident, emergency or disaster that threatens to disrupt constitutional responsibilities. This plan applies to the functions, operations and resources necessary to ensure the continuation of State Government's Essential Functions in the event normal Executive and Legislative Operations are disrupted. This plan applies to all State Government Personnel. State employees will benefit from being familiar with continuity policies and procedures and their respective roles and responsibilities. This document addresses each component listed above and includes the following sections:

- General and Specific Executive and Legislative Powers;
- Assumptions and Planning Factors;
- Organizational Roles and Responsibilities; and
- The Concept of Operations: Georgia Emergency Management Act, Seat of State Government, Lines of Succession, Orders of Succession, Executive Branch Emergency Powers and Legislative Branch Emergency Powers

Although all State Employees should be familiar with continuity policies, this plan does not cover State Agency specific Continuity of Operations Plans (COOP) or emergency measures taken by the Georgia Emergency Management Agency to assist local governments during emergencies or disasters. Each State Agency is responsible for maintaining and exercising their own COG/COOP Plan to ensure continued operations during emergencies/disasters.

The Georgia Emergency Management Agency is responsible for the development, maintenance and activation of the Georgia Emergency Operations Plan (GEOP); the GEOP identifies how the State will assist local governments during disaster/emergency events in which the government (entity/structure) becomes overwhelmed.

Assumptions and Planning Considerations

Activation of this COG Plan is based on the following assumptions and considerations:

- Government officials may or may not receive adequate warning of impending emergencies or disaster incidents.
- Disasters and emergencies that would necessitate the activation of this plan have the potential to hinder normal operations within the Executive and Legislative branches of government.
- When governmental operations are interrupted, the Governor and the General Assembly will activate this COG Plan to ensure a quick and deliberate response to all potential adverse impacts.
- Both governmental and non-governmental personnel and resources located outside the area affected by the emergency or threat may be unavailable as necessary to continue essential functions.
- Key personnel may be rendered unavailable by a disaster or its aftermath, or may be otherwise unable to participate in the reconstitution of State Government.
- A disaster may require agency users, clients and local agencies to function with some loss of service, until full recovery is made.
- The Georgia Constitution and the state statutes address emergency powers of the Governor and the Legislature's authority in times of disasters or emergencies, as well as orders of succession for each branch of government.
- All State Agencies and Departments will conform to and support the emergency response orders and all of the Governors' Orders, proclamations and directives.
- The Office of the Governor and all supporting state agency Public Information Officers (P.I.O) will operate a Joint Information Center to ensure consistent, accurate and timely messaging to the public regarding COG/COOP Operations. This JIC may be operated virtually through internet or PIER.

Objectives

This plan is designed to meet the following objectives:

- Ensure that the Executive and Legislative Branches of Georgia State Government can perform critical and essential functions, if applicable, under all conditions.
- Reduce the loss of life and minimize property damage and loss by ensuring government can continue critical operations.
- Execute a successful order of succession with accompanying authorities in the event a disruption renders the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor or the Speaker of the House unable, unavailable or incapable of assuming and performing their authorities and responsibilities of the office.
- Reduce or mitigate disruptions to operations.
- Ensure that State Government has facilities where it can continue to perform its critical functions, as appropriate, during a continuity event.
- Protect essential facilities, equipment, records, and other assets, in the event of a disruption.

- Achieve timely recovery and reconstitution from an emergency of both the Executive and Legislative Branches of government.

General & Specific Powers

Both the Executive and Legislative branches of Government serve critical roles and as such their continued operations are vital to the health, safety and welfare of all Georgia Citizens. Each branch of government carries out essential (and non-essential) functions; the Constitution of the State of Georgia identifies the general and specific powers of each branch as follows:

(a ) The Governor may convene the General Assembly in special session by proclamation which may be amended by the Governor prior to the convening of the special session or amended by the Governor with the approval of three-fifths of the members of each house after the special session has convened; but no laws shall be enacted at any such special session except those which relate to the purposes stated in the proclamation or in any amendment thereto.

(b) The Governor shall convene the General Assembly in special session for all purposes whenever three-fifths of the members to which each house is entitled certify to the Governor in writing, with a copy to the Secretary of State, that in their opinion an emergency exists in the affairs of the state. The General Assembly may convene itself if, after receiving such certification, the Governor fails to do so within three days, excluding Sundays.

(c) Special sessions of the General Assembly shall be limited to a period of 40 days unless extended by three-fifths' vote of each house and approved by the Governor or unless at the expiration of such period an impeachment trial of some officer of state government is pending, in which event the House shall adjourn and the Senate shall remain in session until such trial is completed.

b. Legislative Branch

Article III. Legislative Branch, Section V. Exercise of General Powers

(c) The distribution of tractors, farm equipment, heavy equipment, new motor vehicles, and parts therefor in the State of Georgia vitally affects the general economy of the state and the public interest and public welfare. Any law enacted by the General Assembly shall not impair the obligation of an existing contract but may apply with respect to the renewal of such a contract after the effective date of such law.

Concept of Operations

The Governor or the Governor's successor may enact the COG Plan at any time he or she deems appropriate. Activation of the COG and relocation of key personnel is a scenario-driven process that allows for a flexible and scalable response to all emergencies and other events that could disrupt operations with or without warning at any time of day. COG Plan Activation is not required for all emergencies and disruptive situations; other actions may be deemed more appropriate. The decision to activate the State of Georgia COG Plan and corresponding actions tailored to the situation is based upon projected or actual impact and severity of the incident. All State Agencies and departments are obligated to a) comply with response directives and taskings from the Governor's office, b) provide support as defined in the most current GEOP and c) implement the appropriate sections of their COOP-COG plans. Georgia statutes and constitution provide operational guidance for changes to the seat of state government, succession of the Governor (and other Chief Executives), and emergency powers of the Governor and the General Assembly during a disaster or emergency incident. The statutes, directives and citations of all applicable codes are as follows:

a. Georgia Emergency Management Act

(1) To create a state emergency management agency and to authorize the creation of local organizations for emergency management in the political subdivisions of the state;

result of a public health emergency, the Governor shall issue a call for a special session of the General Assembly pursuant to Article V, Section II, Paragraph VII of the Constitution of Georgia, which session shall convene at 8:00 A.M. on the second day following the date of such declaration for the purpose of concurring with or terminating the public health emergency. No state of emergency or disaster may continue for longer than 30 days unless renewed by the Governor. The General Assembly by concurrent resolution may terminate a state of emergency or disaster at any time. Thereupon, the Governor shall by appropriate action end the state of emergency or disaster.

(b) A declaration of a state of emergency or disaster shall activate the emergency and disaster response and recovery aspects of the state and local emergency or disaster plans applicable to the political subdivision or area in question and shall be authority for the deployment and use of any forces to which the plan or plans apply and for use or distribution of any supplies, equipment, and materials and facilities assembled, stockpiled, or arranged to be made available pursuant to Articles 1 through 3 of this chapter or any other law relating to emergencies or disasters.

(c) The Governor shall have and may exercise for such period as the state of emergency or disaster exists or continues the following additional emergency powers:

- (1) To enforce all laws, rules, and regulations relating to emergency management and to assume direct operational control of all civil forces and helpers in the state;
- (2) To seize, take for temporary use, or condemn property for the protection of the public in accordance with condemnation proceedings as provided by law;

The emergency temporary location or locations shall remain as the seat of government until the General Assembly shall by law establish a new location or locations or until the emergency or disaster is declared to be ended by the Governor and the seat of government is returned to its normal location.

(b) During such time as the seat of government remains at the emergency temporary location or locations, all official acts required by law to be performed at the seat of government by any officer, agency, department, or authority in this state, including the convening and meeting of the General Assembly, shall be as valid and binding when performed at the emergency temporary location or locations as if performed at the normal location of the seat of government.

(f) The legislative bodies of all political subdivisions of the state are authorized and directed to provide by ordinance or resolution for emergency interim successors for the officers of the political subdivisions. The resolutions and ordinances shall not be inconsistent with this Code section.

(g) At the time of their designation, emergency interim successors shall take such oath as may be required for them to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of the office to which they may succeed.
